PASTOR'S CORNER

“There comes a moment in the life of every human being when we feel the weight of the burdens of life on us!! When we experience one difficulty or tragedy after another!! When our best efforts are not good enough!! When running seems like walking, and walking appears like crawling!! At such moments, life becomes less meaningful, and somewhat not worth living!! The deepness of our wounds may even make us resentful of God!!

But in all this, may we never run away from God, but instead, run to God even when we face difficulties and feel abandoned by God!! No human being can be of great help to us in our most difficult and vulnerable time(s)!! Human help can only be first-aid help, but never curative (full treatment)!! The conclusive answer/solution to our problems comes from God and God alone!!”

Sacrament of the Sick

The Sacrament of the Sick has been known by several names throughout history: Last Rites; Extreme Unction; and Viaticum. If we call the Sacrament "The Last Rites," this captures one important aspect of the Sacrament. It is often one of the last rituals celebrated with a person as he or she nears death. If we focus only on this Sacrament as a "Last Rite," we miss the fact that it is meant to be celebrated with any person facing serious illness, a change in health or surgery. The Sacrament is a healing one, and can affect body, mind and spirit.

If we call the Sacrament "Extreme Unction," this also captures one aspect of the Sacrament, for the Sacrament does involve anointing. "Unction translates to "Anointing." The sick or suffering individual is anointed at the Sacrament of the Sick. The goal of oil anointing is to make the ailing person stronger. The person might feel more capable of handling the sickness or surgery. The person may also become more resilient in the face of death.

This Sacrament is also known by the term "Viaticum," at times. It means "Food for the Journey" in Latin. Giving Communion to the dying person is one of the "Last Rites," according to tradition. By designating the Sacrament as "Viaticum," we acknowledge that the Eucharist is certainly food for the person's journey back to health and wholeness as well as for the eventual trip home to God.

However, if we refer to this sacrament as the "Sacrament of the Sick," then the focus is more obvious. What God intends to accomplish in us, through us, and for us in this amazing meeting is what the sacrament is really all about. It teaches us that God is love and that love always seeks to heal and make whole. God does not intend for humans to be ill. Sin brought disease and death into the earth. The healing and reconciliation of all people with one another and with God is God's desire.

There will be a lector's meeting in the church basement August 14 after the 9:30 Mass to plan the fall schedule. All lectors are asked to be present.

THANK YOU to all the Saints In Progress members and honorary members that continued with our summer fundraiser of selling hot dogs, cake, and the added menu of chicken wings and fish. Thank you also to all of our supporters. Because of all of you, a total of $1400.00 was raised that will be used for the youth ministry. We are truly grateful for the support given to our Youth Ministry.
