PASTOR'S CORNER

“The biggest frustration in life is not poverty, bad as poverty is!! It’s not even sickness, uncomfortable and torturous as sickness can be!! The real biggest frustration in life is one’s inability to be in control of situation(s) and be able to curve the arc of goodness, rightness, to/in the right direction as things ought to be!! When one is unable to do this, one gets truly frustrated!! The only consolation is that we are a people of HOPE!! We HOPE for a better tomorrow!!”

In today’s Gospel we find that God is a God of the living, and this is indeed the core of our hope. Jesus has risen and is with us, therefore, at no time should we be without hope for the future. When you give items and clothing you no longer use to the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, you give hope to your neighbors who have nothing.

The Mass Part three: Meal sharing/ Liturgy of the Eucharist (cont'd). . .

The Eucharistic Prayer: The lengthy prayer that comes next takes us to the core of the Mass and the center of our faith. The priest has four choices for this prayer: Eucharistic Prayer 1, which was published in 1570 but is nearly identical to the Eucharistic prayers used by St. Ambrose in the fourth century and St. Augustine in the fifth century; Eucharistic Prayer 2, which is based on the Greek liturgy of St. Hippolytus in 215; Eucharistic Prayer 3, which is a condensed twentieth-century version of Eucharistic Prayer 1; and Eucharistic Prayer 4, which is a 20th-century prayer adapted from the ancient liturgies of the Eastern Churches.

Although the length and wording of the prayers vary, they all follow the same general format: 1) We ask God to keep in mind all the amazing acts of salvation throughout our history. 2) We reflect on Jesus Christ, the pivotal moment in our history, and in especially the memorial he left for us the night before he passed away. We remember his suffering, demise, and resurrection. 3) After thanking God for all of the magnificent things He has done to save us in the past, we implore Him to carry on those works of Christ in the present. We ask that we might unite as one body and one spirit in Christ.

Invitation: The leader and the congregation converse before the prayer is offered. The priest begins by saying, "The Lord be with you." "Lift up your hearts," he says after asking whether we are prepared and willing to approach the table and renew our baptismal vow to God. We proclaim that we are ready to accomplish this by saying, "We lift them up to the Lord." The Lord, our God, invites us to offer thanks. We reply, "It is right and just."

Preface and Acclamation: The Preface is a prayer that the priest recites before we approach God's throne. When we are brought before God, we praise him for all that he has done for us. The congregation breaks out in song as the glories of God are recounted. This acclamation is expressed as follows in the Mass ceremonial language: "Holy, holy, holy Lord, God of hosts / Heaven and earth are full of your glory." This serves as a reminder that when we pray, we do so "with the angels and the saints."

Consecration: The congregation kneels in a posture of reverence following the Sanctus in anticipation of the Mass's main act. The priest continues his prayer by expressing gratitude and thanksgiving and requesting the Holy Spirit, or the Epiclesis, to transform our gifts of bread and wine into the Body and Blood of Christ.

Institution Narrative: Then, using passages from Matthew, Mark, and Luke's Gospels as well as 1 Corinthians 11:23–26, he describes the Last Supper's establishment of the Eucharist. This also includes the raising of the hallowed host and subsequently the sacred chalice, frequently to the sound of ringing bells, which announces the great miracle that has just taken place: bread and wine are no longer bread and wine. Christ is now present in the Eucharist as Body, Blood, Soul, and Divinity. At this crucial point in the prayer, we declare the mystery of faith, which is a condensed version of the paschal mystery that confirms the veracity of Christ's suffering, death, and resurrection as well as the efficacy of the mystery that is taking place right in front of our eyes and the impending return of Christ.
